

DEATHS

FROM THE TERRIFIC HEAT IN NEW YORK CONTINUE.

GREAT SUFFERING IN THE CITIES

Believed that the Torrid Wave Will Continue for Three More Days Before Relief Comes—Thunderstorms Bring Little Relief—Torture of Humidity Added—Story of the Heat.

New York, July 3.—The heat death roll in this city from midnight to 1 p. m. today is at the one hundred mark. Brooklyn suffered sixty deaths between these hours. Big black clouds cover the sky at this hour, and a fair breeze prevails. The humidity however, is almost unbearable.

New York, July 3.—As soon as the sun mounted high and focused its hot rays on the city today, reports of deaths from heat simply poured into police headquarters. From midnight to 10:30 o'clock fifty-five fatal cases of prostration had been reported from all sections of Greater New York.

At the morgue there are several unidentified bodies which have been picked up in the streets.

Washington, July 3.—Weather Bureau officials stated this morning that up to 9 o'clock no indications had appeared any where in the country of general permanent relief from the heat wave. It was explained that yesterday's thunderstorms were purely local and only temporary in their effects. Continued high temperature is predicted for an indefinite period throughout all the territory affected by the recent torridity.

Cincinnati, O., July 3.—There was a slight break in the awful torridity Tuesday, but today promises to equal, if not exceed the terrific heat of Monday. The mercury at six o'clock Wednesday morning registered 84, and at 9 o'clock it had reached 89. The local weather forecaster says there is no sign of cooler weather. There were two deaths and 23 prostrations Tuesday. To add to the other ills of the warm weather, a milk famine is threatened.

New York, July 3.—The torrid wave is still here and according to weather sharps will stay for three days more before relief comes. The thunder storm late yesterday afternoon was spectacular and did a lot of damage, but the cool breath it brought with it abided but a short time, passing away to the eastward and carrying with it the sighs of the suffering multitude.

At 8 o'clock this morning, the mercury in the street had risen to 97, only three degrees less than at the same hour yesterday.

The torture of humidity is added to the blistering heat today. Humidity is the one thing that has been feared since the hot spell began. Its absence alone has saved the city from the worst heat calamity in its history. Its advent early this morning meant that the seventh day of the hot wave might be the worst of all.

Eight deaths were reported from midnight to 8 o'clock. The total number of deaths since the hot wave blanketed the city is now 355.

The thunder and lightning storm of last evening did great damage. A bolt struck St. Agnes Roman Catholic church in Brooklyn, and fire followed that practically destroyed the beautiful edifice. The loss is estimated at $250,000.

An eleven story brick apartment house, in course of construction at 95th street and West End avenue, was struck and destroyed by the fire that followed. Loss, $150,000.

Another bolt struck a barn in Brooklyn and killed ten horses. The storm swept up the Hudson and developed into a small tornado by the time it reached Ossining. Trees were uprooted, buildings unroofed and windows smashed.

The wind carried with it a mass of yellow mud which plastered everything in the path of the storm—two miles long and several hundred feet wide.

At Sing Sing prison every window in the west walls was smashed and the muddy rain poured in upon the convicts. The imprisoned men became panic stricken and the guards had a desperate struggle calming them. Some fell upon their knees in prayer; others cursed, yelled, and moaned in their terror. The mortality from the heat has caused the city morgue to be overcrowded with the bodies of men, women and children.

The accommodations of the place came overtaxed early yesterday and when the dead wagons came pouring in with additional dead the morgue officials are at an utter loss to devise plans for the disposition of the bodies.

When Bellevue hospital accommodations became taxed to the limit with heat patients yesterday 90 sufferers were put aboard the steamboat Fidelity and carried to the city and the Metropolitan hospitals.

The physicians and nurses at all hospitals are almost exhausted from overwork. The ambulance drivers have not had sleep for 36 hours. Nearly all the ambulance horses have been killed by heat and overwork and newspaper delivery automobiles are being pressed into service for ambulances. Today as yesterday, outdoor business is practically suspended and the doors of factories, shops and mills have been closed until the heat scourge abates.

IT'S PRESIDENT HUNT

Trustees of Denison University Extend a Call to the Boston Divine—Will Probably Accept—A Short Sketch Of Dr. Hunt.

The Advocate yesterday printed a special telegram from Toledo announcing that a meeting of Denison university trustees was held on Tuesday afternoon in the office of Attorney Charles T. Lewis for the purpose of electing a President of Denison University at Granville, and that in all probability Emory W. Hunt would be elected President. At 2 o'clock this afternoon in answer to a telegraphic inquiry from the Advocate, Mr. Lewis, one of Denison's trustees, wired the Advocate as follows:

"Yes, Dr. Emory W. Hunt was yesterday given a call to become President of Denison University, but he has not as yet signified his acceptance. (Signed.) CHARLES T. LEWIS."

The election of Dr. Hunt as the successor to Dr. D. B. Purinton proves the correctness of the Advocate's prediction. It is believed that Dr. Hunt will accept the presidency.

Will Probably Accept.

Toledo, O., July 3.—Dr. Hunt, who has been offered the presidency of Denison university, has taken the call under advisement. He sails for Europe July 17th, and has promised to give his decision before that date. He will likely accept. Dr. Hunt earned the degrees of A. B. and M. A., and a year ago received at the hands of Denison the honorary degree of D. D. For 13 years he was pastor of the Ashland Avenue Baptist church of this city. One year ago last May he accepted a call to the pastorate of the Clarendon Avenue Baptist church of Boston, one of the largest and most influential churches of that denomination.

Sketch of the New President.

Emory William Hunt, D. D., is a man about forty years of age, with a wife and two little daughters. He was born at East Clarence, N. Y., and was graduated from Rochester university in 1884, in 1887 graduating from Crozier Theological seminary. While at Rochester Dr. Hunt won prizes in mathematics and Latin and also won the Hall essay prize. After his graduation at the theological seminary, Dr. Hunt went to the Ashland Avenue Baptist church of Toledo and remained there until last September when he was called to the Clarendon street Baptist church of Boston.

Dr. Hunt is the author of "Genesis of Sects," and other religious works. While at Toledo he assisted in the work of raising $150,000 for Denison university and succeeded, thus securing Mr. Rockefeller's conditional gift of $100,000. President D. B. Purinton, who has recently resigned the presidency of Denison to accept the presidency of the West Virginia state university, did great work in raising the endowment for Denison, but he was ably assisted by Dr. Hunt.

TORTURED FARMER

Whose Wife Had a Fierce Struggle With the Masked Robbers. One Side of Winkler's Face Beaten to a Jelly—Recovery Doubtful.

VERMILLION, O., July 3.—Three masked men visited the house of Herman Winkler, a wealthy farmer living two miles east of here, and after forcing entrance, tortured and robbed the farmer of all they could find. Wm. Wolfe, Mrs. Winkler's brother was expected home late Friday night and when a rap came at the back door. Mrs. Winkler supposed it was Wolfe. She opened the door and found three masked men. She slammed the door in their faces but they forced the door. Winkler, who had just got out of bed, was knocked down and dragged to a couch, where he was bound hand and foot. Mrs. Winkler was soon disposed of and a shot gun she had was taken away after a fierce struggle. They then began to torture the old man, asking him to reveal the hiding place of his money. Mrs. Winkler, unable to stand seeing her husband tortured, gave up her pocketbook, which however only contained four dollars. This didn't satisfy the men and they continued to torture Winkler. Mrs. Winkler, finally attempted to escape through a side door. One of the men followed her and in the scrimmage that took place outside Mrs. Winkler threw her assailant into a stone hatchway and would have conquered him had he not received aid. At this Mrs. Winkler fled in her night clothes to the nearest neighbor's, half a mile distant. When she returned home with help the robbers had fled. Mrs. Winkler says that there was $200 hid in the house which they failed to get. One side of Winkler's face is beaten into a jelly, and his body was badly bruised. He is sixty years old and his recovery is doubtful.

The ceremonies will occupy two days. On the first day the coronation proper will take place at Westminster Abbey and on the second day a street procession will be held.

TEN MILE WALK

Taken by Messrs. J. M. Browne and Homer Place and They Didn't Do it for Fun Either.

James M. Browne, the grocer, and Homer Place, the painter, went to Avondale Monday, but they are not saying much about their trip.

It leaks out that both after a good day's "fish" and a fine supper, stood waiting for the train which came booming up the track. To their dismay it did not stop, altho' all sorts of signs were made to the trainmen.

Then Messrs. Browne and Place tried the "phone, but in the storm a limb had blown over the line, disabling it. The men then started for the national road intending to "phone for a rig from Newark, but when they got there they found the store closed and the proprietor had gone to Jacksonville. Unable to procure a horse they continued their tramp and finally reached Newark at 10 p. m., footsore and very weary. Each resolved to keep the affair quiet, but in confidentially telling it to one or two friends, the story got out, and here it is.

BIG DEAL

Involving Fifty Millions—Coke Company to Absorb U. S. Steel Trust Coal Properties.

New York, July 3.—The New York Commercial today says that a deal has practically been consummated whereby the H. C. Frick Coke Company will absorb all the underlying coke and coal properties of the U. S. Steel corporation. The deal will involve about $50,000,000. The absorption of the coke and coal companies by the Frick company is in line with the policy of the steel combine. In bringing together the various underlying properties many economies can be introduced thereby adding to the profits of the steel corporation. The transaction is largely one of taking the cash out of one pocket and putting it in another.

A Fourth of July Veteran

When I uster go barefooted, oh, how happy I would feel Even if there was stin bruises on each bare an calloused heel,
Even if there was big cuts on the sides of the knee
O' the pants that Brother Billy had outgrown an' left to me,
Even if but one suspender kep' 'em where they'd oughter be,
Fer the Fourth was always comin' an' away all sorners slunk
When I had a bunch o' crackers an' a yard er two o' punk!

It was joy to teach the pigtales o' the crackers to the light.
Joy to see the pigtales burnin' toward the fingers held so tight,
An' to hear the crackers crackin' in an all day long delight,
While to make a dandy "sisser" that would go off with a "siss," Scorchin' half a dozen fingers, was the very greatest bliss.

Never seemed to git one-tenth enough o' "siss" an' "bang" an' "plunk"
When I had a bunch o' crackers an' a yard er two o' punk!

Years an' years ago this happened, an' the boy that uster play
With the crackers an' the "sissers" now is old an' bent an' gray,
But the Fourth's the same ez ever, fer the little children say,
"Come, gran'pa, an' make a 'sisser,' come an' light the punk fer us!"
An' there ain't no use refusin' fer they'd make an awful fuss,
Though the fact is—jest between us—I ain't never dodged er shrunk
When they've got a bunch o' crackers an' a yard er two o' punk!

EARLE HOOKER EATON.

The Fourth at Sebogon Light

BY JOE LINCOLN.

(Copyright, 1901, by Joe Lincoln.)

Ramsey's Point. Down at the foot of the lighthouse the surf hissed, roared and creamed over the seaweed covered rocks. Abner Dawes turned uneasily in his chair and glanced at the clock.
It was half past 7 and the morning of the Fourth of July, 1893.

Luther Payne, the old ex-man-of-war's man and head light keeper, sat near by reading the day before yesterday's newspaper. He was eagerly spelling out every word of intelligence from the blockading fleet at Santiago, for he had served under Farragut, and the United States navy was his hobby, his pride and his idol. The breaking out of the war with Spain and Dewey's victory had thrown the old man into a tremendous excitement. But for the past two months Cervera's fleet had claimed all his attention.

When the fleet left Cadiz and started for the West Indies, he expressed the opinion that it was a "dead luck" and even went so far as to send up to S—and order a liberal assortment of fireworks with which to celebrate its destruction. Every day since it had been penned up in Santiago harbor he had snorted his disgust because the "cowardly Greasers didn't come out and fight."

"Nothin' new!" he snorted. "I'm 'fraid our ships'll never git a whack at them Greasers. Plaguy shame, I call it! How's the fog—thick as ever?"
"Yes, yes; thicker, if anything," answered Abner disgustedly. "Guess my Fourth'll be spent about here."

"Too bad! I know when a feller makes up his mind ter ask a girl he wants ter git it over with as quick as possible. Sorter like havin' a tooth out, ain't it?"

Abner paid little heed to this remark, but opened the door and stepped out on the iron gallery of the light-house. Sebogon light is built on the ledge of rocks which, submerged at high tide, marks the entrance to the harbor of the city of S—. The city itself is seven miles away. The nearest land to the light is Ramsey's Point, and that lies two miles to the west.

Now, the average young man would deem Ramsey's Point a dreary place in which to spend the Fourth, but Abner, who had been looking forward to the holiday for a week, thought of it as an ideal spot because Sadie Almsworth lived there.

Sadie was an orphan whose father, a fisherman, had been drowned the year before, leaving her to care for her two little brothers. Abner, who became acquainted with her when he first took the post of assistant keeper at Sebogon, was now deeply in love. He had not spoken to the young lady on the subject as yet, but had made up his mind to go over to the Point on the Fourth of July, "pop the question" and learn his fate.

Luther, whose interest in his subor-dinate's love life was second only to his interest in the navy, had willingly given the latter permission to take the day off, but the storm of the day before and the fog of today rendered it unsafe to leave the lighthouse in charge of but one man; so, unless the fog lifted, the trip would have to be postponed.

"Looks 's if 'twould stay thick all day, don't it?" said Mr. Payne, who had followed Abner out on the gallery. Abner granted assent. The two men leaned over the iron rail and peered down into a mist so dense that the tower seemed to be floating in the clouds. Suddenly the head keeper spoke.

"Ab," he asked, "do you hear anybody callin'?"

"No. Wait a minute, though! Seems
's if I did."

"I do, and I heard two or three times.
Sounds like a woman's voice or a child's."

They both listened, and above the sounds of the sea and the bell they heard a shrill cry.

Luther made a speaking trumpet of his hands and through it sent a thunderous "Hello!"

The distant cry was repeated, this time seemingly by two voices.

"Children, sure!" said Luther. Then he bellowed, "What's the matter?"
"Help us! We're driftin' in a dory!"
came the reply.

The two men ran down the winding stairs, through the various rooms of the light and came out on the platform below the lower door. They were still 30 feet above the rocks, but an iron ladder led downward, and they descended swiftly.

The cry was heard again, this time
much nearer.

"What little wind there is left is blowin' right toward us," said Luther.
"They'll pass close by, even if they don't run afoul of the ledge. If they git inter this surf, it'll be all day with 'em!"

Abner turned quickly, climbed up to and entered the door of the light and reappeared with a long coil of stout rope. One end of this he tied about his waist and the other he fastened to the lowest rung of the iron ladder.

"If they pass anywhere in sight,"
he said coolly, "I'm goin' off ter 'em.
You stand by ter pull me in when I'm ready."

A dim shape moved out of the fog,
perched on the crest of a great roller.
It swung onward and became a dory,
without oars or sail and with two little figures perched on the stern. Abner saw that it would pass the point where he stood and strike an isolated rock just beyond. Without a word he plunged in and, striking out swiftly, seized the gunwale of the dory. He raised himself cautiously, rested with his chest on the gunwale and reached out his hands. The dory rose on a big breaker, descended and upset in a lather of foam. Luther, pulling frantically on the rope, drew his partner ashore. The latter had a small boy's coat gripped in each hand, and the boys themselves were inside of the coats.

When the quartet was safe in the living room of the lighthouse and the sobbing youngsters were getting warm and dry before the kitchen stove, Luther came into the room where his assistant was changing his clothes and said in an awestruck whisper:

"Abner, do you know who them children are?"

"Yes, I knew 'em when I first saw
'em in the dory. They're the Almsworth boys."

"Yes, sir; that's exactly who they be —brothers of your gal! Blessed if it don't seem like the hand of Providence!"

The story told by the boys was this:
They had the night before pleaded with their sister to be allowed to get up at 3 o'clock and go over to the village, where there was to be a bonfire. She had refused permission, and the youngsters had run away, climbing out of their bedroom window. Seeing the dory which belonged to a neighbor on the beach, they thought they would save time by rowing over to the next point and walking to the village from there. They became bewildered in the fog, lost their oars in the rough water beyond the point and had drifted across the bay over to the light.

They said their sister would not be alarmed if they did not return till night, because she would guess that they had run away to go to the fire and would suppose they had staid to dinner at Eddie Willis' uncle's house. Eddie was to have gone with them.

But the hours went by, and the fog showed no signs of lifting. The boys had a fine time for awhile, exploring the lighthouse and watching Abner clean the lantern. But at length they began to grow weary of these amusements and to remember that it was the Fourth and they had no firecrackers.
Luther, who had been pondering for some time, said:

"Ab, it seems ter me as if these boys
had been sent ter, you understand, sorter providential like. Now, I ain't goin' ter have their good time spiled.
If they can't go ter the fireworks, why,
by gum, the fireworks can come ter
them!"

He went into his bedroom and returned dragging a wooden packing case. From it he took rockets, pin-wheels, Roman candles and bombs galore.

"There!" he said, with a sigh. "I calculated ter fire these off when our feet knocked them Spaniards out of water, but I don't see no chance of that happenin', so I'm goin' ter put these ter a good use. I'm goin' ter fire 'em off this evenin' ter amuse these boys."

At 4 o'clock the fog was as thick as ever, but the surf had subsided, and the sea was comparatively smooth.
The boys and the two keepers were out on the gallery arranging the last pieces of red fire. Then Luther said suddenly:

"Listen! Either I ain't got over this moran's business or somebody's hail-in us again!"

"Light aboy!" came a voice over the water.

"Ahoy yerself!"

"Keep a-hollerin'. We're tryin' ter find yer!"

The four on the gallery "kept a-hol-lerin'" as requested. Then a voice spoke just beneath them, a voice that three of them knew and loved.

"Oh, Abner," it said, "I'm in dreadful trouble! My little brothers are missin'- ing, and I'm afraid they have drifted out to sea in a boat. Have you seen or heard anything of them?"

And there below in a sailboat, with Mr. Willis at the tiller, sat Sadie Almsworth.

The boys took it upon themselves to answer.

"Hello, Sadie!" they screamed. "Here we are! We're all right, and there's goin' ter be bully fireworks!"

Sadie had met Mr. Willis that afternoon, found out from him that her brothers had not gone with Eddie, had traced their footsteps in the sand of the beach until she came to where they had taken the dory and had surmised the rest. Mr. Willis had offered to take his sailboat and put out in the fog, with the faint hope of rescuing the lost ones, and she had insisted on going with him.

The boys wanted their sister to remain at the light until evening and see the fireworks. Abner certainly did not attempt to dissuade her, and Luther warmly advocated her remaining.

"The fog's havin' a little now," he said, "Wait until by and by, and AB'll take the boat and put you ashore."

So she decided to remain, and Mr.
Willis went back alone. Luther lost no time in telling Mrs. Almsworth of Abner's heroism in saving her brothers. He also kept discreetly out of the way and insisted that the boys should be with him, thus leaving the young couple alone.

The fog lifted after supper, and it was time for the fireworks. The boys and Luther were out on the gallery.
The sea was shining smooth in the starlight, and a puffing tug was coming up the harbor.

Abner, with a face shining with joy till it looked like a full moon, rushed up the stairs and grasped the head keeper's hand in a mighty grip.

"It's all right, old man," he whispered triumphantly. "She says yes. She'll marry me."

"Hooray!" yelled Luther. "Blessed if that ain't pretty high as good as hearin' that we'd licked the Spaniards!"
The tug had come abreast of the light-house. Her skipper leaned out of the phothouse and hailed the keeper.

"Hey, Lute!" he shouted. "Heard the news?"

"No. What news?"

"Why, from Santiago! The Spaniards tried ter run out of the harbor yesterday, and our fleet sunk every blessed ship o' 'em. We didn't lose a vessel and only one man."

Mr. Payne stood like a statue for a moment. Then he dashed into the light-house and returned with a kerosene lamp. Knocking the chimney from the latter, he applied the blazing wick to a spot on the gallery rail. There was a sputter of fire, a crackle, and the light-house burst into a halo of glory. Rockets whizzed from the windows, blue lights, red lights and white lights shone everywhere; flowerpots blossomed on the roof, and Roman candles sent their stars upward.

"Great Scott!" shrieked the astounded tugboat captain. "I thought you hadn't heard of it!"

"I hadn't!" Luther was dancing like a madman.

"Then how on earth did you happen ter have all these things ready?"

"Providence! Providence has had command of this light all day long, and don't you forget it!"

The First Fourth

It has always seemed funny to me," said the man from Boston, "that signers of the Declaration
should have picked out such a slow place as Philadelphia to thus immortalize. I've always wondered why the Declaration wasn't promulgated in Boston."

"That's right, or, better yet, in New York," said the man from Manhattan.
"Philadelphia must have been pretty slow—dead slow—in those old stage-coach days."

"You fellows make me tired," said the man from Philadelphia. "Why, at that time Philadelphia was the swift-est thing in the country. That was why it was selected by the signers and—"

"Swift? Huh! Chicago's the swift-est thing that ever happened. If they had known their business, they would have chosen Chicago," broke in the man from the World's fair city.

"Chicago!" shouted the Bostonian,
the New Yorker and the Philadelphian
in chorus.

"It was a howling wilderness!"
"It hadn't even happened then!"
"It wasn't on the map even!"

"That's right," sneered the Boston man. "Philadelphia was very swift at that time. It was four days after the Fourth arrived before you people heard about what had happened and got up a celebration—four whole days after.
Talk about being slow!"

A broad smile of triumph slowly took possession of the Philadelphian's face.

"Oh, I don't know!" he cried. "If Philadelphia was slow, there were others. It is true it took us four days before we woke up and got to celebrating, but swift New York didn't get at it and rip down old George III's statue until five days after the Fourth, and as for Boston—swift, lightning Boston—she didn't even wake up and hear about it and get to celebrating for two whole weeks! Slow? Just cut Philadelphia out after this, will you?"

Decayed Vegetables.
Do not try to dispose of the partially decayed vegetables in the cellar by feeding them to the cows. It is poor economy. They are sure to impart a taint to the milk and to injure the butter.
And there is another place where they should not go, and that is to the manure heap, unless it is to be so composted that the vegetables themselves will decay and the fungus or mold that forms during the decay will have been entirely destroyed. But the use of them for feeding milk cows is the most common method of disposing of them, and the very worst method too.

COLUMBIA REVIEWING A LESSON IN UNITED STATES HISTORY.

The Makers of Wetmore's Best believe that the most men chew tobacco for the good of the tobacco and not for the sake of a premium. They are putting the value of the premiums all in the quality of the tobacco. The man who chews Wetmore's Best gets his money's worth in good tobacco. He notices the difference in flavor; in lasting quality; in satisfaction, and finds that all this goodness costs him less than cheap tobacco. Try a piece of Wetmore's Best and satisfy yourself that it's "all in the quality."

NURSED

NORTHCOTE BACK TO HEALTH AFTER DOCTORS

GAVE UP ALL HOPE OF RECOVERY

Miss Munson and Northcote Have Been Married in an Illinois Town. Some Day She Will be Wealthy and Will Receive a Title in England—A Zanesville Romance.

Zanesville, O., July 3.—Friends in this city were surprised to receive calls on Tuesday from Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert D. Munson, of Los Angeles, Cal., announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Sarah Munson, to Ernest Alfred Northcote, of Zanesville, Sunday, June 30, at Lake Forest, Ill. The marriage was solemnized at the summer home of the bride's uncle, Ebenzer Buckingham, of Chicago.

The marriage has not a little romance connected with it. Several months ago Mr. Northcote became ill and his life was despaired of. As soon as Miss Munson was informed of the fact she hurried alone across the continent to the bedside of her fiancé. The physicians gave their opinion that he was suffering from a rare form of nervous disease, but that with proper care he would recover.

Mr. Northcote was removed to the Margaret Blue Sanitarium. Noted specialists were called in consultation and for weeks his condition was very critical. He was able to leave the hospital about two weeks ago, and his condition has been slowly improving since.

During Northcote's illness Miss Munson remained in Zanesville. She left for her uncle's home at Lake Forest last Wednesday. Mr. Northcote left the following day. They were married on Sunday. From Chicago they will go to California as soon as Mr. Northcote is able, and will make their home with the bride's parents.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert D. Munson, formerly of this city, and with her parents removed to California last fall. She was prominent in Zanesville society while living here. She has a charming personality and possesses a splendid soprano voice. She studied music in Chicago and later in Europe. The remarkable purity and sweetness of her voice and the ease with which she sings wins her admirers wherever she appears. She is very intellectual and highly cultured.

Mr. Northcote, who is a member of a distinguished English family, was until his recent illness employed in the Zanesville office of the Great Southern Natural Gas and Oil company as bookkeeper. He has lived in Zanesville since the organization of that company and had made many warm friends in this city during his residence here.

Mr. Northcote will be immensely wealthy some day. A maiden aunt is all that stands between him and a title in England, to which is also attached a vast estate, which will yield him a princely income. He practically owes his life to his bride's nursing, for the doctors had given his case up as hopeless, when Miss Munson arrived from California and remained loyally at his bedside until he had recovered.

The tripping feet—the sparkling eye—the graceful movement—belong not alone to the budding maiden. These graces are the right—aye duty of every woman until the hair whitens—and regal dignity replaces them.

The mother who guards her strength has so much more to devote to the care and education of her dear ones. She should be a comfort—a cheer—always.

Yet how many feel that they have the strength to properly balance the home? The world is listless, weary and morbid. Its blood moves sluggishly and is full of impurities. It needs a kindling, invigorating tonic to set it afire—it needs Pe-ru-na.

THE ONE MEDICINE

in the world which women may rely upon positively. Pe-ru-na is good for everyone, but particularly for women. The various weaknesses which afflict their delicate organism spring from inflammation or catarrh of the mucous lining, and Pe-ru-na is a specific for catarrh in any organ of the body. Any congestion of a mucous membrane simply means catarrh of the organ affected. This is why Pe-ru-na cures all sorts of troubles where other remedies fail. If there is a catarrhal affection the matter with you anywhere Pe-ru-na will cure you.

HAPPENINGS IN ALL PARTS OF OHIO.

All Sorts of Buckeye News Items Boiled So that Only Real Facts Remain.

Cleveland, July 3.—Subscription books were opened here looking to the formation of a new trotting association which will be a rival of the National Trotting association. It will be known as the Continental Trotting association. Subscriptions to the $10,000 capital stock came in rapidly. It is said W. B. Fasig probably will be elected president and Frank L. Chamberlain of this city treasurer. The headquarters will be in Cleveland. It is understood the new association will embrace practically all the cities now included in the Grand Circuit.

Decided Against Bond Buyers. Cincinnati, July 3.—The United States circuit court of appeals affirmed the judgment of circuit court refusing to compel the sinking fund trustees of Cincinnati to specifically perform a contract with Roberts & Company, bankers of New York, for refunding over $15,000,000 of bonds. The decision was based on the fact that the contract was made without previous advertisement.

Fate of Two Farmers. Lima, O., July 3.—Madison Mitchell and John Poling, young farmers living on adjoining farms southwest of the city, were both accidentally killed. Poling was riding on top of a load of hay to his barn, when he fell off, head first. Mitchell, a few minutes later, was leading his team of horses into the barn when one of the animals kicked him in the abdomen.

Kicked to Death. Marietta, O., July 3.—David F. Boothby, 65, of Macksburg, this county, was kicked and instantly killed by a vicious horse. He was engaged in hitching the horse to a buggy, and when in a stooping attitude the animal kicked him in the forehead, crushing his skull.

Landlord Died Suddenly. Fremont, O., July 3.—Arthur Jewett, proprietor of the Hotel Elmore at Elmore, dropped dead in his office. He fell to the floor and exclaimed, "Boys, this is the last of me." He was well known to the traveling public.

Will Not Go Into a Trust. Ravenna, O., July 3.—The Riddle Coach and Hearse company refuses to join the trust in process of formation or to give any option on its plant here.

Ohio Briefs. Toronto—Mrs. Mont Weigle, of this place, and Mrs. Robert Porter, of New Cumberland, W. Va., will each receive $10,000 from the estate of Sam Stevens, who died in California recently. Both are poor women.

Tiffin—While rowing with two companions a small rifle in their boat was accidentally discharged and Richard Scott, aged 14, was shot in the breast. He may recover.

Toledo—The circuit Court Judges refused to grant Solomon Reighard a new trial. He killed his wife and is now in the penitentiary serving a life sentence.

Ironton—Leonard Barkley, of Burlington, engineer on the Camden Railway company's launch, committed suicide by drowning. He was demented.

Troy—John Shaffer, while under the influence of liquor, attempted to hang himself with a rope the third time, but was prevented by his wife.

Akron—Miss Nellie B. Hardy, a County Recorder's clerk, was arrested, charged with sending threatening letters through the mails. She was discharged two weeks ago. Since that time Recorder Alling and the members of his family have been receiving anonymous letters, threatening them with dire things. A Postal Inspector is said to have traced the letters to Miss Hardy. She would have been sent to jail had Recorder Alling not furnished bail for her appearance.

Toledo—Oscar Jennings, a farmer, was stung on the foot by a bumblebee Saturday and blood poisoning followed. Physicians have abandoned hope of saving his life. He is aged 60 and wealthy.

Ravenna—The attorney for Mrs. Kirk D. Bishop of Cleveland, charged with unlawfully living with her coachman, Edward Clucker, has decided to waive examination before Justice Ingall and the woman will be bound over to the Common Pleas court. No witnesses have been summoned, and there is much disappointment on the part of those who expected to attend a racey hearing of the case.

Bowling Green—Wm. McIntire, a farmer, met a tragic death at Bairdstown while returning home from Sunday school. He was walking on the B. and O. railroad tracks reading his Bible, when he was struck by an east-bound train and killed outright. He was a teacher in the Sunday school which he had just attended.

Washington, July 3.—Thunder showers in the vicinity caused a decided break in the hot spell. The thermometer, which had reached almost 100 degrees at noon, fell steadily to 76 degrees. There were 12 heat prostrations and five deaths Tuesday.

Phoenix, A. T., had the highest temperature Tuesday, the thermometer registering 124 at Phoenix, 121 at Flagstaff, 117 at Sedona, 115 at Winslow, 113 at Mesa, 111 at Scottsdale, 109 at Tempe, 107 at Chandler, 105 at Gilbert, 103 at Peoria, 101 at Tucson, 99 at Nogales, 97 at Yuma, 95 at Maricopa, 93 at Pinal, 91 at Gila, 89 at Graham, 87 at Lordsburg, 85 at Lordsburg, 83 at Lordsburg, 81 at Lordsburg, 79 at Lordsburg, 77 at Lordsburg, 75 at Lordsburg, 73 at Lordsburg, 71 at Lordsburg, 69 at Lordsburg, 67 at Lordsburg, 65 at Lordsburg, 63 at Lordsburg, 61 at Lordsburg, 59 at Lordsburg, 57 at Lordsburg, 55 at Lordsburg, 53 at Lordsburg, 51 at Lordsburg, 49 at Lordsburg, 47 at Lordsburg, 45 at Lordsburg, 43 at Lordsburg, 41 at Lordsburg, 39 at Lordsburg, 37 at Lordsburg, 35 at Lordsburg, 33 at Lordsburg, 31 at Lordsburg, 29 at Lordsburg, 27 at Lordsburg, 25 at Lordsburg, 23 at Lordsburg, 21 at Lordsburg, 19 at Lordsburg, 17 at Lordsburg, 15 at Lordsburg, 13 at Lordsburg, 11 at Lordsburg, 9 at Lordsburg, 7 at Lordsburg, 5 at Lordsburg, 3 at Lordsburg, 1 at Lordsburg, 0 at Lordsburg.

At Washington the maximum was 90, but during a part of the afternoon the thermometer fell 15 degrees in as many minutes. Numerous prostrations and deaths were reported from the heat and in many places industrial plants were forced to suspend.

Reports received at the weather bureau from throughout the entire area affected by the intense heat show a continuation of very high temperatures save in a few favored localities, where more moderate weather resulted in consequence of thunder storms or other local atmospheric disturbances. No immediate relief of a substantial character is in sight.

Rainfall reports show that there has been precipitation throughout the affected area, varying from less than a hundredth of an inch in many places to almost an inch. Generally speaking, the thunder storms which have come have been what is known as dry storms, so that very little rain has accompanied them.

Indications for a large portion of the heated area point to cloudy weather with showers, which, because of their local character, will bring only partial relief from the heat. The prediction of officials here is that the temperatures for the next 24 hours will show a fall of probably four or five degrees, but still above the 90 degree mark in most places. The Atlantic coast will get some relief from a West Indian disturbance which is moving northward.

The eastward movement of another low pressure area in the extreme west renders it improbable that there will be any long-continued relief from the high temperatures over districts now affected. It is not probable they will reach the previous extreme in the Atlantic states on account of the influence of the West Indian disturbance which appears to be moving northward over the lesser Antilles.

As yet this warm wave has not equalled in duration those of 1881 and 1900, except in New York city, where during the present hot wave the maximum temperatures have ranged from 90 to 98 during the past seven days, exceeding the greatest previous record by two days. Neither have the extreme temperatures of the present wave yet exceeded the previous highest record, although very nearly equalled them.

Thunderstorms at New York.

New York, July 3.—The heat, which has worked such havoc in this city since Sunday, was somewhat mitigated Tuesday by a succession of thunder storms, which cleared the atmosphere and sent the mercury tumbling down 10 degrees. Never did a downpour of rain receive such an enthusiastic reception. The thunder and lightning were heavy and many houses were struck, causing fires, but so far as known no person was killed or injured. During the last downpour hail fell in quantities. It was the hottest July 2 in the history of the local weather bureau. While the official temperature in the tower of the weather bureau remained at 98, the thermometers on the street level ranged all the way from 100 to 106. Out of 328 cases of prostration up to midnight, 143 resulted fatally.

Missouri Drouth Broken.

St. Louis, July 3.—The drouth that has been experienced in this vicinity for several weeks was broken by a heavy thunderstorm and brought great relief from the heat. After the rain the mercury dropped from 97 to 80 degrees. There are 33 persons, a larger number than were treated during the entire summer of 1900, at the city hospital suffering from heat prostration. Four deaths were reported.

Scorching Kansas.

Kansas City, July 3.—The highest temperature Tuesday was 100 degrees, and there was very little breeze. Four heat prostrations were reported, none fatal. A number of horses died on the street. The prospect is for continued hot water. The highest official temperatures in the United States Tuesday were reported from Kansas, Hays City 104, Fort Scott and McPherson 105 degrees.

Heat Victims at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, July 3.—Two deaths and 14 prostrations were reported here, making a total of 17 deaths and 91 prostrations during the hot spell.

Three Deaths at Toledo.

Toledo, July 3.—Three deaths occurred here as the result of the excessive heat. All were laborers.

Huntington, W. Va., July 3.—The water famine is still on here, all pumps at the water works plant being broken. Mayor Gordon has issued a proclamation forbidding the use of fireworks tonight or on the Fourth.

MAYOR DOYLE

IS NOT TO BE INTIMIDATED OR CAJOLED.

Kennedy Horse Whipping Case Postponed at Akron—The Indignation Meeting's Action.

Akron, O., July 3.—In the Kennedy horsewhipping case Mayor Doyle said: "I shall not be intimidated, threatened or cajoled."

Mayor Doyle faced a committee of citizens from North Hill, who had called to present the resolutions adopted at an indignation meeting. He refused to accept the resolutions, giving as his reason that they were endeavoring to influence the Court in the hearing of an action in which he should be absolutely impartial.

In police court a great crowd had gathered, but there was no disorder. The case of the State vs. Bert G. Work, George C. Kohler and Stephen Kohler was called last. The attorneys for the defense immediately asked for a continuance of the case, as S. H. Kohler, one of the defendants, was unable to be present. He was called to Chattanooga by a message announcing the serious illness of his wife, who has broken down under the strain. She has worried herself sick, and it is feared that the result may be serious.

Ever since the cruelly false stories were circulated about her she has suffered great mental agony. It was in the hope of benefiting her health that she was sent away. The attorneys for Kennedy did not object and the Mayor continued the case for two weeks. The following card was issued by the North Hill Committee to the citizens of Akron:

"It having come to our knowledge that a meeting is to be held in the near future for the purpose of further discussing the assault upon Mr. Samuel A. Kennedy, we wish and request and urge upon the people not to hold such a meeting, as we can say to our citizens that Mr. Kennedy, his family and attorney join in this request. Let nothing be done at this time that would place any of Mr. Kennedy's friends and sympathizers in the same position as those who committed the assault. Very respectfully,

"Dr. L. B. Humphrey,
"I. S. Meyers,
"Ed. H. Bishop,
"H. A. Kraft."

WORRIED

Over the Loss of a Pocket Book which He Found Just Where He Dropped It.

For a time Tuesday night Mr. J. W. Hursey, the efficient deputy in the County Clerk's office, didn't know whether his name was Hursey or Dennis. Mr. Hursey had been to Centerville in attendance at the Judicial convention, and on their return home, the delegates upon their arrival at Granville, concluded that they would take supper at the Buxton. Before doing so, however, Judge J. M. Swartz, Squire Gard and Mr. Hursey repaired to the home of Mr. Swartz in Granville, for the purpose of cleaning up a little. Shortly after supper Mr. Hursey missed his pocket book which contained about $25 and a check for $150. He notified the police upon his arrival in Newark of his loss, and a diligent search was made for it. It was remembered that Mr. Hursey had taken off his coat at the home of Mr. Swartz, and that he had thrown it upon a lounge. A visit to the house resulted in the recovery of the pocket book and its valuable contents. It had fallen out of the pocket when the coat was tossed upon the lounge. There was no happier man in the city last night than Mr. Hursey.

Washington, July 3.—General Maximo Gomez, accompanied by Secretary Root, called upon President McKinley this morning shortly before noon. The Cuban hero was received in the red room. The interview was brief, consisting of mutual felicitations.

HAVE A TOOTH

It's been troubling you this long while. Perhaps it's partly decayed. A slight cold starts it aching furiously. The tooth next to it may be becoming decayed because of its decaying neighbor. The best thing for you to do is to let me examine your teeth. If they need filling I will tell you so. If it be best to extract or if a cap will save the tooth will tell you that. Whatever your teeth need I will do it for you—do it painlessly, too. This is something I guarantee.

Pepsin Syrup Co.,
Dear Sirs:—For the past ten years I was troubled with my stomach. About four years ago I was taken down with rheumatism; was not able to do a day's work for three years. All medicine seemed of no benefit to me. A year ago I was advised to take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I truly believe I would have died but for this medicine. My rheumatism is entirely gone and my stomach is in good condition. It has saved my life and I cannot recommend it too highly.

An Old Friend

S. S. S. has been before the public for many years; from a small beginning, it has steadily worked its way to the front, and is now known in every city, town and hamlet in the country. Its staunchest friends are those who have known it longest and have witnessed its wonderful curative powers in all parts of the country tell of their restoration to health and happiness, and the testimony of these is the highest evidence of the medicine's worth. S. S. S. is more popular today than ever in its history—no other remedy stands so high, has ever given such perfect satisfaction or is so reliable in the cure of Cancer, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Contagious Blood Poison, Scrofula, Eczema, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Acne, or any disease that originates in the blood. Being strictly a vegetable preparation, you will find it agrees with you much better than a drug store concoction or any of the widely advertised potash and mercury remedies, which affect the bones, muscles and stomach, causing Rheumatism or Dyspepsia. If you have never tried S. S. S., you will be surprised at the immediate good effects, but surely it drives out the poisons and restores the blood to a healthy condition. If there is a sore or ulcer on the body, it begins to heal around the edges, the discharge finally ceases and the place gets well; muscular and bone pains vanish, and the skin is relieved of all itching, irritating eruptions. Nervous, run down and anemic people will find S. S. S. just the medicine they need, for blood poverty and ill nourished nerves are responsible for their condition. For old people and children S. S. S. has no equal; being free from all minerals, it does not nauseate or have any injurious effect whatever, and keeps the blood in good condition, thus fortifying against disease. Experience teaches what is good and what is not good; this applies particularly to medicine, and S. S. S., a remedy that has retained the confidence of the people for nearly 50 years, must have merit—IT CURES, is the secret of its success. When you call for S. S. S. don't be persuaded to accept something else—there is no substitute for S. S. S. It is the only guaranteed purely vegetable blood purifier, and the safest and best for all blood and skin troubles. Do not let them force an inferior mineral remedy on you because there is a larger profit in it. If you have any blood or skin disease, don't hesitate to write us about it; our physicians will carefully consider your case and advise you without charge. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases free.

Don't Experiment—Take S. S. S.

Grading to be Commenced at Once and Materials Will be Ready to Push the Work.

Columbus, O., July 3.—The projectors of the Columbus, New Albany and Johnstown electric railway have not made much noise about their intentions and doings, but they have been accomplishing a great deal since the Columbus Railway company announced that it would complete the Mt. Fordyce who is carrying out the extensive plan of equipping the Miami and Erie canal with an electric tramway and electric motors for the drawing of canal boats, will have the contract for the whole road and will look after all matters of construction.

For the actual work of constructing the road between Columbus and Gahanna, Messrs. White and Brewer will have the contract under Mr. Fordyce. They will begin work Wednesday morning and will push it through just as rapidly as is consistent with good results. The enterprise is most comfortably financed and every detail of preparation has been carefully attended to before the work should be commenced.

The work of grading for the roadbed will begin at Atcherson street and Taylor avenue. Rails and ties have been arranged for and will be here in plenty this week, and the laying of the track will follow immediately after the grading. The road will pass the Rarig plant, Shepherd's Station and will connect Columbus with Gahanna by way of the Johnstown pike. From Gahanna it will be built to New Albany and from the latter place to Johnstown. It will bring into close touch with Columbus a rich farming district which is not reached as yet either by steam or electric railway. The road will be completed and in operation as far as Gahanna by the early fall. The cars will come into the city over the Columbus railway company's lines by way of Mt. Vernon avenue and a loop for them to swing around will be formed with the High street and State street lines as two sides of the quadrangle.

IDLEWILDE

Fine Bill at the Casino This Week.

Here are Some of the Features.

Lovers of fine vaudeville will be well pleased with the bill presented at Idlewild Park Casino this week. While it is true that there is on the bill one or possibly two acts that are not up to the high standard usually seen at this popular theatre, the balance of the program more than compensates for the poor ones.

Deserving the most favorable criticism is the act presented by Dean Jesse & Co. It is an act that appeals to every one as true and not forced and overdrawn as most of the so-called sketches are. The act is aptly named "The Lion Tamers." The roar of the lion during the sketch is realistic and appearance of the animal on the stage is enough to make a timid person very nervous and during several of the performances it was necessary to calm several persons in the audience, who wanted to rush from the theatre before the fact was disclosed that the "lion" was only a large good natured St. Bernard dog.

Cliff Dean who plays the part of the lion tamer in the sketch says that it is nothing new for him to see women and children and some men start and make for the exit when Prince Leo makes his thrilling leap from the wings to the center of the stage, and it was for this reason that he decided to unmask the animal on the rise of the second curtain to assure the more timid in the audience that the animal was harmless.

Equally deserving of favorable mention is the remarkable act presented by the Martelles, billed as expert bicyclists.

The fact the program reads truly is apparent to the audience after this more than clever pair are on the stage a few seconds. The work that they do apparently without effort on the wheel is to say the least marvelous. The most difficult feats known to acrobats are performed by this daring pair mounted on one bicycle.

Beatrice Golden sings ballads and coon songs equally well, and her popularity is demonstrated by the applause which is given her entire act. Miss Golden's appearance is charming, and she is making one of the hits of the bill at Idlewild this week.

Lawrence Crane, the Irish magician, is very clever. His act is new and bright, and always holds the close attention of his audience to the end.

Taken all in all the performance is all that the most fastidious could desire, and is away beyond the usual program offered at summer resorts.

HUNTINGTON FEARS ANOTHER FIRE WILL BREAK OUT.

Total Loss of Yesterday's Blaze is $200,000—Many of the Firemen Were Prostrated.

Huntington, W. Va., July 3.—The fire started by an electric wire in the Adelphi hotel which did such great damage, as telegraphed to the Advocate yesterday, has resulted in a total loss of $200,000. There was not a gallon of water in the city reservoirs when the fire broke out and all the fire engines in the city were out of repair. Rapidly the flames spread and soon half a dozen residences were aflame. The brick annex to the hotel also caught fire and was destroyed. All is a total loss, together with a livery stable and a number of private offices, fruit stores, barber shops and dozens of smaller structures. The fire engines that were sent to the scene from surrounding towns soon broke down and the flames spread rapidly and unhindered. Prostrations among the firemen were numerous, but none will result fatally. There is still no water, and much alarm is felt for fear another fire will break out.

The fire loss is as follows: Adelphi hotel and contents, owned by J. T. Nichols of Columbus, O., $100,000; Adelphi annex, owned by H. U. Haxon heirs of Dayton, O., $25,000; George Page's livery stable, $4,000; G. P. Ingram's residence, $5,000; F. D. Bowyer's residence block, $15,000; J. H. Among other buildings destroyed were the old Riverside drive hotel, which 40 years ago was a resort of the elite of the city.

Among the injured are Miss Crystal, proprietor of the house, and Billy Ryan, a pugilist, known as "Australian" Ryan.

Sioux City, Ia., July 3.—A suit for $100,000 has been instituted against T. J. Stone, president of the Old First National bank, involving the legality of that institution, which was forced to the wall in 1896. It is charged that T. J. The merchants here have been missing goods for several months. The police officers recovered half a wagon load of property at Mrs. Shinaberger's home, nearly all of which was identified by Warsaw and Milford merchants.

LITTLE CHANGE.

OFFICIALS EXPECT STRIKE TO RESULT SUCCESSFULLY.

Expect Non-Union Mills of Sheet and Hoop Combine to be Unionized. Machinists' Victory.

Pittsburg, July 3.—There is little change in the strike situation. The officials of the Amalgamated Association continue to express themselves as confident of a successful outcome of the strike and that the nonunion mills of both the sheet steel and steel hoop combine will become unionized during the summer. The basis for this belief is said to be that the men in the nonunion mills, while working under individual contracts, will disregard them and strike as soon as they find that there is a reasonable chance to win. The union men claim they have secret promises from the men in the nonunion mills to walk out as soon as it becomes necessary. Thus far, however, none have gone out and only union men have quit work.

President Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association declares that not only will the sheet and hoop combines have to come to time but the plants of the American Steel and Wire company will be forced into the union, though at present those mills are outside of the union. It is understood that earnest efforts are being made by prominent men on both sides to reopen the negotiations.

Attempts to Compromise Failed.

Cincinnati, July 3.—All negotiations between the manufacturers and the striking machinists have been called off. Representatives of both sides have held several conferences during the past two days, but were unable to reach a satisfactory agreement. It was announced that the manufacturers would apply for an injunction in the United States court to enjoin the strikers from picketing factories or interfering with the nonunion men in the streets.

Machinists Generally Won.

Washington, July 3.—President O'Connell of the International Association of Machinists, says he regards the machinists' strike as practically won. "There are now only 8,000 men out," he said, "and agreements are being signed every day reducing this number. The first financial aid to be received by the machinists since their strike began was accepted by President O'Connell in the form of a check for $5,000 from the American Federation of Labor."

CAUGHT IN TUNNEL

TWO BOYS KILLED AND EIGHT OVERCOME BY FUMES.

Shocking Disaster in a Coal Mine. Train Stalled and Boys Groped Way in Darkness.

Pittsburg, July 3.—Ten boys were caught in a tunnel leading to the Keating mine, owned by the Pittsburg Coal company. Two boys were killed and eight were overcome by the foul fumes of the place. Anthony Miller, 15, was instantly killed, and Patrick Gallagher, 14, died at the hospital an hour later. The boys who were overcome by fumes ranged in age between 11 and 18, and they will all recover.

The boys had been helping the men load a train and all boarded the train to go to the tippie. While in the tunnel the train stalled. The boys became frightened, jumped to the ground and tried to grope their way to the outside. The fumes of the tunnel, combined with the smoke of the engine, prostrated them, and the two who were killed fell across the tracks. When the train finally started these two boys were literally ground to pieces, and the others, who had fallen to one side, were taken out later by a rescue party, all in an unconscious state, but revived shortly afterward.

FATE OF FISHERMEN.

Sought Shelter Under Tree and Lightning Killed Three.

St. Louis, July 3.—Lightning instantly killed three men and seriously injured a man and a boy, members of the St. Louis fishing party on the bank of Dead creek, at Cahokia, Ill. The dead are William Inghauser, 32; John J. Degraff, 18, and Louis Stern, 26. Bennie Eglin, 13, was fatally injured, Joseph Eglin, 24, and Albert Leidinger, 14, were seriously hurt.

The point at which the men were fishing is some distance from the village of Cahokia, and instead of seeking shelter from the storm at a farmhouse the men and boys gathered around a tall sycamore tree near where they had been fishing. Lightning struck the tree and the report which followed was heard for miles. Citizens of Cahokia a little later found three of the party dead and had much difficulty in resuscitating the others.

Lightning From Cloudless Sky.

Louisville, July 3.—A bolt of lightning from a clear sky that struck among 80 inmates of the Central Kentucky asylum for the insane at Lakeland, 11 miles from Louisville, killed James Howard, 34, of Stevensport, Ky., and knocked unconscious Nat Mercer, an attendant, and three other patients. Great excitement followed among the insane persons, who had been taken into the yard for air, but rain came and drove them back to their quarters. The attendant and the patients who were knocked senseless will recover.

Sensation In Pythian Circles.

Indianapolis, July 3.—At the special meeting of the supreme lodge, Knights of Pythias, in Chicago next week, it is understood a report will be made exposing persons alleged to have been implicated in a deal by which a former Illinois insurance commissioner received from a manager of Knights of Pythias endowment rank $3,500 for a "clearance card," and a letter of recommendation for the rank Union B. Hunt, secretary of state, who is a supreme representative in the order, will attend the meeting of the supreme lodge and will favor an investigation and indictment of the offenders if there is evidence to warrant such action.

Battle at a Blind Tiger.

Friar's Point, Miss., July 3.—A report received from the southern part of Coahoma county states that Deputy Sheriffs Frank Johnson, Edgar Montrey and Frank Mullen were fired upon by negroes when they entered an alleged blind tiger. The fire was returned and a fusillade of shots was exchanged. It is stated that four negroes were killed outright and a fifth since died. The white men escaped uninjured. The officers went to the place to investigate a complaint from several citizens that blind tigers were running.

Pleads Guilty to Murder.

Muncie, Ind., July 3.—Walter Driscoll, 17, who confessed to killing Mrs. Minnie McCall, 39, was taken before Police Judge Behrmer and pleaded guilty to the charge of murder in the first degree. His case will be called Friday in the circuit court, and unless advised differently by an attorney the court will appoint him a legal counsel and he will be quickly sentenced. It is believed a plea of insanity may be offered because his father died insane.

Nerve Slavery

It is present-day conditions—heaping burdens of work upon the nervous system that tells the story—premature breaking up of health.

It tells why so many men and women, who so far as age is concerned, should be in the prime of health, find themselves letting go of the strength, the power, the vitality they once possessed. It is because that great motor power of the body, nerve force, is impaired. Neither will the heart, the brain, the liver, the kidneys, the stomach act right without their proper nerve force supply. Let any organ be lacking in this essential and troubles begin—some of them are:
Throbbing, palpitating heart.
Sleepless nights.
Sudden startings.
Morning languor.
Brain fog.
Inability to work or think.
Exhaustion on exertion.
Flagging appetite.
Digestion slow.
Food heavy.
Easily excited, nervous, irritable.
Strength fails.
Loss of flesh and muscular power.
Settled melancholia.

JOHN HANDEL KILLED

Runaway Occurred at Noon on Granville Street and the Well Known Butcher in Jumping From the Wagon Was Instantly Killed.

Mr. John Handel, one of Newark's best known citizens, a son of Mr. Geo. Handel, the North Third street meat dealer, was the victim of a fatal accident at noon today. Mr. Handel was killed in a runaway.

Mr. Handel had been out delivering meat to the customers of the shop, and had stopped in the shade of a large tree at the corner of Tenth and Granville streets, and was making some entries on his book. The horses were considerably annoyed by the flies and were very restless and anxious to go. Mr. Handel caught up the lines, and called sharply to the horses to halt, when they started to run down Tenth street, and turned into the Buckle acre lot. Mr. Handel still held onto the lines and tried his best to stop the horses, but without avail. They started to run in a circle which grew smaller and smaller, when some men saw that the wagon was about to upset, called to Mr. Handel to jump. He was endeavoring to get out of the wagon on the inside of the circle, when it suddenly tipped and caught Mr. Handel across the neck, and threw him to the ground, breaking his neck and killing him almost instantly. Several men hastily came to the rescue, but by the time Mr. Handel was taken up on the lawn of Dr. Davis, he was lifeless, blood oozing from his mouth, nose and ears. It was also found that his skull was fractured.

Coroner Scott Evans was called, and viewed the remains, after which they were taken to the undertaking establishment of O. Bourner on East Main street where they were prepared for interment.

The deceased was aged about 45 years, and leaves a family consisting of a wife and two children, to mourn his death. Besides these his parents, and two brothers, Henry and George, and a sister, Mrs. Clara Hall, survive him. They have the sympathy of the entire community in their great bereavement.

The deceased was one of Newark's most highly respected citizens. Having lived here all his life he was known by nearly everybody, and had many friends who will greatly deplore his sudden death.

At this writing it is not known when the funeral will take place. The coroner will hold an inquest regarding the death of the deceased, but has not set the time as yet.

BEARD

Of Many Years, Forcibly Cut From Bob Johnson by Merchants at Wife's Request.

Suffolk, Va., July 3.—Refusing to be shaved or to have his hair cut, Robert Johnson, a well known citizen of Courtland, Va., got so objectionable to his wife that she decided something ought to be done. His beard looked like it hadn't been shaved for 20 years, and his hair hung over his shoulders like a woman's locks. Mrs. Johnson thought so much hair spoiled her husband's looks and she asked some of the merchants to suggest a remedy.

Finally a number of merchants and their salesmen got together and decided to play barbers till Johnson's appearance was more to Mrs. Johnson's liking. They laid for him. When the details had been fixed Johnson was besieged and the business men wouldn't let him go until they had clipped away the masses of hair and lopped off and shaved the great shaggy beard. Johnson objected for awhile to losing his much-prized hirsute growth, but submitted when he saw his assailants meant business.

Johnson is a carpenter. When he went to the house he was building no one knew him and it took his wife some time to learn who he was. Mrs. Johnson rejoiced when she learned what had been done. The man who used the razor on Johnson's face is one of the biggest shopkeepers in Courtland.

Nagely Found His Wife, She Having Committed Suicide Because She Was "Miserable."

New Philadelphia, O., July 3.—Mrs. Florence, wife of William H. Nagely, committed suicide by shooting herself yesterday. When Mr. Nagely went home for his dinner he found his wife sitting in a rocking chair with a bullet hole in her right temple and a revolver at her feet.

Mrs. Nagely was 34 years of age and leaves two sons by a former husband. The weapon used, a 22-caliber affair, was purchased at O. P. Taylor & Son's hardware store at 10 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Nagely left the following note:

"Good-by Willie and all my friends. I do this because I am too miserable. I pray the Lord to comfort you, although I am not much loss."

FLORENCE.

Washington, July 3.—Wu Ting-fang, the Chinese minister, who is to deliver the oration of the day at the Fourth of July celebration in Philadelphia, received anonymous letters from that city, presumably threatening his life. The minister was very reticent about the matter, but it is believed he will not give it any serious consideration.

White Man Turned Yellow.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold at Hall's drug store. 7

ATTRACTIONS

AT IDLEWILDE PARK ON THE FOURTH.

Balloon Ascensions—Base Ball—Cano and All the Usual Games and Sports.

One of the leading features of the Fourth of July Celebration at Idlewilde park tomorrow will be the balloon ascensions by Prof. D. L. Dennis of Franklin, Ind., who with his assistant, Mr. O. O. Forsythe, arrived in Newark this morning and will have everything in readiness for the two ascensions which will take place Thursday afternoon, the first at 3 o'clock and the other at 6 o'clock.

No doubt the professor's specialty "shot from the clouds," a sight never before witnessed in our city, will attract the greatest attention and more people than any other number in the immense program.

When the monster balloon is inflated and in readiness for its skyward flight a large cannon is attached, into which is placed at the proper moment, the aeronaut and his parachute. The signal is given, then up, up into the very clouds, rushes the monster air ship, bearing its human freight. Then follows a sight of thrilling peril. When the balloon has attained full height the cannon is discharged, firing into empty space the aeronaut and parachute to which he clings and descends with terrible velocity, but absolute safety to terra firma.

The East Newark and Eclipse base ball teams will cross bats at Idlewilde park tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Both teams are crackjacks and a fine game is anticipated. The line up is as follows:

Eclipse—Parkinson lf; Van Voorhees 1b; Peiri c; Weaver p; Kaiser ss; Brown 2b; Jones cf; Helm 3b; Crilly rf; Smith sub.

East Newark—Daugherty lf; Evans 1b; Kennett c; Gore p; Allison ss; Mullinix 2b; Vandenberg cf; Harold 3b; Core rf; Fisher sub.

The Newark Gun Club will hold a shoot during the afternoon, in which all sportsmen of Newark and Licking county are invited to participate. Matches will be shot at frequent intervals during the afternoon, and as a large number of the members of the club have signified their intention of being present, the sport will no doubt be exciting.

Everything for the comfort of the patrons of the park has been done and all who attend that beautiful resort Thursday are assured of a good time.
